"The Outeast Poor,"

A great stir has recently been made in London by a pamphlet with this title, showing the utter misery of the degraded classes. Many of these poor people have come to their misery by strong drink. But many others are simply suffering from broken-down constitutions. If such people were helped up by giving them Brown's Iron Bitters, the sum of human misery would be greatly lessened. Spend a dollar at the druggists and give some needy invalid a bottle of this invaluable tonic.
